Dr. Clayton Leroy Barnes, Postdoctoral Scholar at Technion, at a visit to the Albert Einstein Archives of the Hebrew University

The Zuckerman STEM Leadership Program attracts high-achieving postdoctoral scholars from premier universities in the United States and Canada to do research in STEM areas in Israel.

DURATION, FUNDING AND ELIGIBILITY

Zuckerman Postdoctoral Scholarships will be awarded for up to two years. Candidates may apply to STEM departments in more than one of the 8 participating Israeli universities.

ISRAELI UNIVERSITY POSTDOC TRACK

→ Postdoctoral scholars receive a scholarship of $63,000 per academic year for up to two years.

Of this amount,

● $60,000 is provided by the Zuckerman STEM Leadership Program, of which:

- > $51,600 divided into monthly payments of $4,300 for living expenses.
- > $8,400 towards relocation reimbursement for the first year.
- > $8,400 towards research and travel to professional conferences for the second year.

● An additional $3,000 in research funds is directed to scholars through their supervisors at their Israeli universities.

→ Postdoctoral candidates must be citizens of the United States or Canada or have a documented status that allows them to study and work in the US.

→ Candidates must hold a PhD degree from a leading American or Canadian university, or if still studying for a PhD, must submit their PhD thesis before October 1, 2023. They should be planning to return to the United States or Canada to compete for an academic position.

→ Postdoctoral candidates must obtain consent from a potential hosting supervisor at the Israeli university/universities to which they are applying.

JOINT NORTH AMERICAN-ISRAEL POSTDOC TRACK

→ Joint Postdoctoral scholars receive a scholarship of $63,000 per academic year for up to two years.

Of this amount,

● $60,000 is provided by the Zuckerman STEM Leadership Program, of which:

- > $51,600 divided into monthly payments of $4,300 for living expenses.
- > $8,400 towards relocation reimbursement, provided they will stay in Israel minimum one year.

● An additional $3,000 in research funds is directed to scholars through their supervisors at their Israeli universities.

→ Another $8,000 for research and travel to professional conferences is provided directly to the scholar by their US or Canadian university, but scholars must apply to the US or Canadian university to receive the stipend, and show a letter from that university confirming this support. Please note that the US or Canadian university may provide other supplemental funding for living expenses as well.

→ Joint postdoctoral candidates must be citizens of the United States or Canada or have a documented status that allows them to study and work in the US.

→ Candidates must hold a PhD degree from a leading American or Canadian university, or if still studying for a PhD, must submit their PhD thesis before October 1, 2023.

→ Joint postdoctoral candidates must obtain consent from potential hosting supervisors at both the Israeli university and the American or Canadian university to which they are applying.
