

Israel Institute for Advanced Studies at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Open Call for Individual Fellowships

2023-2024 Academic Year

THE ISRAEL INSTITUTE FOR ADVANCED STUDIES at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem (IIAS) invites scholars from Israel and abroad to submit proposals for an individual fellowship at the IIAS for the 2023-2024 academic year. Topics may cover any research area from any discipline and must seek to be innovative, with the potential to impact research in the field. Two or three scholars who will collaborate on the same project should apply individually and state clearly that they wish to work together.

Fellows spend their residency at the IIAS, located at the Edmond J. Safra Givat Ram campus of The Hebrew University of Jerusalem. The IIAS provides fellows with a nurturing and stimulating academic environment, as well as administrative support. Fellows from abroad receive a generous fellowship and subsidised accommodation.

Our expectation is that the fellow's residency will result in creative and original research that can be shared with the international research community.

Eligibility

Scholars may be from Israel or abroad and must have a tenured position with an academic research institution. Former fellows may apply for an individual fellowship once 10 years have elapsed from the end of their previous term by the beginning of the academic year of their fellowship. This fellowship is not open to postdoctoral researchers.

Period of Residence

The IIAS academic year runs from September 1 to June 30. Residencies are open for 10 months and 5 months and the proposal should contain the requested period of residency according to the following options:

A 10-month residency beginning September 1

A 5-month residency beginning September 1 or February 7

Application Deadline and Notification

Applications will open online from September 1 - December 1, 2021 (midnight). In the online form, the applicant is asked to enter the following details:

- Personal information
- A list of 4 international experts in the candidate's field and their contact information

In addition to the above, the applicant should provide the following documents:

- Letter of Intent (up to 1000 words): Description of the project and justification
- Professional CV and a full list of publications

Incomplete applications will not be considered.

The IIAS notifies applicants of the IIAS Academic Committee's decisions regarding the selected fellows by June 30, 2022.

For additional information please see:

https://ias.huji.ac.il/Individual_researchers

About the IIAS

The Israel Institute for Advanced Studies at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem, founded in 1975, is a national institution devoted to supporting research. The Institute's primary mission is to encourage and support collaborative and individual research in a wide range of disciplines, providing the fellows with a dynamic and enriching academic environment.

For additional information, please visit our website: ias.huji.ac.il

SUBSCRIBE