

THE HALBERT CENTRE FOR CANADIAN STUDIES

Peter Lougheed Fellowship in Canadian Studies – 2020-2021

The Halbert Centre for Canadian Studies in cooperation with the Israeli Association for Canadian Studies aims to encourage PhD and masters students writing their thesis at the Hebrew University to conduct research on issues with Canadian content and / or common interest to Canada and Israel.

Research topics: research grants are designed to promote research with Canadian content in the following fields: Faculty of Social Sciences, Business Administration, Faculty of Humanities, Faculty of Law, Education and Social Work. Research topics lacking Canadian content are not eligible for this scholarship.

Eligibility for submitting applications: PhD and masters students writing a thesis at the Hebrew University's theoretical faculties.

Procedure for submitting applications:

Applications should be written in Times New Roman, 12 point font, and 1.5 spacing, in one of the following languages: Hebrew or English. Each page must be numbered consecutively and should include the candidate's last name on the same line of page number. Applications for the scholarship must be submitted by 20 February 2020 to the Halbert Center for Canadian Studies email:

mscanada@mail.huji.ac.il

Application Structure:

1. The research application should include the following: a. Title b. Summary c. Theoretical background d. Brief survey of the scientific literature in the research subject e. Proposed research implementation methodology f. Possible results of the proposed research g. Brief bibliography (total length of the proposal should not exceed 10 pages).
2. If the implementation of the research requires staying and conducting field work in Canada, a detailed work plan of the stay in Canada must be submitted.

3. A short CV (in English) of up to two pages should be submitted along with the application
4. A detailed research budget must be attached, which can include: travel (one transatlantic roundtrip, internal travel in Canada for research purposes), daily allowance and other expenses essential to carry out the research. The proposed budget (if approved) will form the framework for the budgetary activity in the research. If deemed necessary, changes in the budget's items may become possible following a justified request submitted to the Halbert Center's academic committee and approved by it.
5. Two letters of recommendation must be submitted to us along with the application, one of which should be from the research supervisor, indicating the importance of implementing the research.

Assistance scope and domain:

The maximum scholarship amount will be 6,500 CD (six thousand five hundred Canadian dollars)

Grants approval announcement date:

Applicants for the scholarship will be informed of the approval or rejection of their requests by the end of March 2020

Reports:

The final report (2-4 pages) describing the research methods and results will be submitted, together with the financial report, to the Halbert Centre for Canadian Studies up to one year after the completion of the research.

Contribution note:

The scholarship is funded equally by the Halbert Centre and the Israeli Association for Canadian Studies. Therefore, any article or publication resulting from the research should include reference to the two contributing parties.

*Final approval of the fellowships is subject to budget confirmation.
